"Languages Meet Sport - Festival for Regional and Minority Languages"

Location: Udine

On 19th and 20th October 2012, the "Languages Meet Sport - Festival for Regional and Minority Languages" will take place in Udine. It is a project supported also by the Friuli Venezia Giulia Region, although not directly organized by the Region.

Languages meet Sport (L&S) for Regional and Minority Languages and Cultures is the third edition of the very successful "Languages meet Sport" European project that uses the passion for sport to motivate young and adult people to learn languages and meet other cultures.

It is a project supported by the EU Lifelong Learning Program with the aim of disseminating European best practices fostering language diversity and contributing thus to the mutual understanding of different cultures and communities. The event will take place in Udine (Italy) and will offer all those who are interested in the dissemination of the language and culture of a territory an opportunity to present their projects, learn from others and develop a European Network in the field.

L&S Festival is open to schools, universities, sport clubs and cultural associations who wish to present their projects on Regional and Minority Languages and Cultures. It will be structured to offer areas for plenary sessions, panel sessions and workshops.

More information, as well as the Programme, can be found on the website www.languagesmeetsport.eu.
